IMA Announces Record Number of CMA for Fiscal 2013

More than 2,800 certificates were awarded in Fiscal Year 2013—the most in any year since the CMA was created in 1972. Some 18,000 candidates from around the world are now pursuing the CMA. In all, approximately 40,000 professionals have earned the certification by passing an exhaustive exam that evaluates expertise in the areas of financial planning, analysis, control, decision support and professional ethics. The Middle East, Africa, Pakistan, and India boasts a total of 2071 CMA holders, 401 of which earned their CMA in fiscal year 2013. Designed to meet the needs of businesses, the CMA translates into significant career opportunities. According to IMA's most recent Salary Survey, CMA holders earn $34,000 more in compensation than their non-certified peers.

"We're pleased to announce IMA's record number of CMA recipients for fiscal year 2013," said Dennis Whitney, CMA, CFM, senior vice president, Institute of Certified Management Accountants (ICMA®), IMA's certification division. "The increasing demand for the CMA reflects its position as a respected credential, validated by a rigorous exam that indicates mastery of the skills needed to succeed in management accounting."
