The First Student Chapter in the Middle East Set Up by Tanta Univeristy, Egypt

We are pleased to announce that the first student chapter in the Middle East and Africa region has been set up by students of Tanta University under the leadership of Academic Adviser and CMA® (Certified Management Accountant) holder Heba Srour, CMA, CFM CIA, CTP. Srour is an academic lecturer with more than 14 years of experience at Tanta University's Faculty of Commerce in the Business department. According to Srour, the main objective of the student chapter is to "help students understand the importance of continuing professional education (CPE), and the CMA in particular, in furthering their careers in the field of accounting, finance, and information technology. Not only would students benefit from sharing best practices but also from showcasing them as leaders and role models for other students."

Congratulation to Our New CMAs

We are proud to see our CMA community growing every day in the Middle East and Africa region, with more than 2000 active CMAs. Click here to see this month's new CMAs.

Chapter Activities

Iftar Event by Abu Dhabi Chapter

On Monday, 21 July 2014, the IMA Abu Dhabi Chapter hosted its annual Ramadan Iftar. The Iftar had in attendance CMA professionals, IMA members, chapter board and directors, and VIP guests from the Abu Dhabi local community. The president of the chapter, Maher Nasreddine, said the Iftar was designed to bring together all members and their associates to express Ramadan's true spirit and to promote friendship, cooperation, networking, and mutual understanding. "It is very important for us at this point of the year to exert our effort to meet and greet one another in celebrating Ramadan". The IMA Abu Dhabi Chapter board wishes everyone in general and all Muslim's in particular Happy Ramadan Mubarak and a Happy Eid Fitr full of happiness and prosperity.

Global Highlights

First-Ever IMA International Salary Survey

Reflecting the significance of the global marketplace, IMA has released its first-ever International Salary Survey. In every region the global accounting association surveyed, professionals holding the CMA credential had greater earning power than non-CMAs. With responses from nearly 2,500 individuals, IMA's survey is an accurate representation of its member base and a true measure of the management accounting community.
